

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Kulipa Baisultanova – PhD of Political Science, Associate Professor of Department of Language and Translation of China and the Far East Region at Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages. She has been working in the sphere of education more than 25 years. Mrs. Baisultanova is interested in problems such as the national identity, economic and political interrelations, civil society, and political culture.

Phone: +87016065031; E-mail: baisultan\_k@mail.ru

Oleksii Balukh – Ph. D. in History, Associate professor at the Department of History of Ukraine, Faculty of History, Political Science and International Relations of the Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University. Research interests: history of Ukrainian, European medieval military history, historical period Bukovina being as a part of the Moldavian state in XIV - XVII century and it's military-political dimension. Author of 1 monograph, co-author of 2 monographs and more than 45 articles.

Phone: +380660888696, E-mail: balukh85@gmail.com

Mariia Burtseva is a PhD student of the State Institution “Institute of World History of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine”, Kyiv, Ukraine. Her thesis is devoted to the topic of “Immigration Policy of Canada and Building Canadian Identity from 1976 to 2012”. Her main research interests include the Canadian Studies, Immigration Studies, National Studies, Gender Studies, Contemporary Myths in Modern History, and Mass Media.

Phone: +380637460833; E-mail: mariyaburtseva@gmail.com

Marzhan Dautbekova - PhD of Historical Science, Associate Professor of Department of Archaeology, Ethnology and Museology at Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages. For more than 15 years Mrs. Dautbekova works in the sphere of education. Her research field comprises special topics in history and ethnology.

Phone: +87025247739; E-mail: dautbekovamk@gmail.com

Anuar Galiev – Doctor of Historical Sciences, Professor of Department of Language and Translation of China and the Far East Region at Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages. His professional experience is more than 35 years. The main spheres of interests are ethno-semiotics and philosophy of history.

Phone: +87014473731; E-mail: Galiev_anuar@mail.ru

Aliya Isayeva - PhD of Historical Science, Acting Associate Professor of Department of History at Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages. She has been working in the sphere of education since 2000. Her main research interests: history, ethnography, culture, ethno-cultural processes, conflictology.

Phone: +87076101070; E-mail: aliyaisaeva77@mail.ru

Kateryna Kasatkina is a PhD student at the Zaporizhzhya National University, Zaporizhzhya, Ukraine. Her research is devoted to the topic of “The Main Approaches of the U.S. Reaction towards the Cuban Revolution in the Current Historiography”. Her main research interests are history of the Cold War, American-Cuban relations, wars and international conflicts.

Phone: +380999495899; E-mail: ka.kasatkina@gmail.com

Nazarii Khrystan is a PhD student at Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University, where he is working on PhD thesis about “King Daniel Romanovich in Ukrainian culture imagination”. Research interests: mechanisms of expanse and forms of Ukrainian culture memory, places of historical memory. He provides a special attention to the image of King Daniel Romanovich in Ukrainian historical imagination. The author published about 20 articles on these problematics.

Phone: +380954364044; E-mail: byzantinische@gmail.com

Miroslav Kmet' is currently associate professor at the Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica, Slovakia. He is a member of the Department of history where he gives lectures mainly on the history of the Slovak minorities living abroad (18th – 20th centuries). He is also pedagogical supervisor of the departmental study programs. In his scientific research, he has long been focused on the cultural history of Slovaks in the southern Hungary and northern Serbia (region of Vojvodina) during 19th and 20th centuries.

Phone: +421484467120; E-mail: miroslav.kmet@umb.sk

Ekaterina S. Kotlova earned a bachelor's degree in Circumpolar Studies graduated from the Nord University, Norway. She holds a master's degree in Philosophy in Indigenous studies from the University of Tromsø, Norway, and another degree in History from the NArFU, Russia. In 2007-2013, the author was a Departmental lecturer in Russian history and philosophy at the NSMU (Arkhangelsk). Since 2015, she works in a position of a senior researcher at the Arctic Center for Strategic Studies and as art-editor of the "Arctic and North" journal, NArFU (Arkhangelsk). The author has a strong scientific interest and several published articles in ethnic research, indigenous peoples' history and rights in Northern Russia and Scandinavia.

Phone: +79009167726; E-mail: e.kotlova@narfu.ru

Aleksandr Krymov graduated from Moscow State Law Academy (Russia) in 1995, specializing in criminal and criminal-procedure law. He earned his PhD in 1999 at Moscow Law Institute of Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia and the title of Doctor in Law Sciences in 2015 from the Academy of Management of Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia with a thesis on criminal procedure activity of penitentiary institutions in Russian Federation. He wrote more than 130 scientific works in the sphere of criminal, penal and criminal-procedure law. He is currently head of Academy of Federal Penitentiary Service of Russia.

Phone: +74912272112; E-mail: apu-fsin@mail.ru

Antoniý Moysey – Doctor of Historical Sciences, Professor, Chief of Department of Social Sciences and Ukrainian Studies of Bukovinian State Medical University. Research interests: history of Ukrainian culture, history of Ukraine, traditional culture of the Ukrainian population, interplay in area of traditional culture of the Ukrainian and east-Romanian population of Bukovina, processes of ethnocultural identity in border regions. Author of 200 scientific publications, including 5 monographs.

Phone: +380505300967; E-mail: antoniimoisei@bsmu.edu.ua

Bernadeta Ottmárová, (born in 1986) studied history and philosophy at Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica, Slovakia (she graduated in 2010). She completed her doctoral study in 2013 with the topic Michal Žilinský (1838 – 1925), politician and historian. Her dissertation was published under the title „Na žírnej rovine... Z príbehu Čabäna Michala Žilinského“ in 2014. Her main interest in the field of research is history of the Slovak minority in Hungary during the period 1850 – 1950. Currently she works as the elementary school teacher.

Phone: +421905517149; E-mail: ottmarova@gmail.com

Ștefan Purici graduated from Chernivtsy University, Ukraine, in 1989, his specialization being World History. He obtained his PhD in 1995, with a thesis on the Romanian national movement in Bukovina (1775-1861). He is currently Professor in the Department of Human, Social and Political Sciences, Faculty of History and Geography, Ștefan cel Mare University of Suceava, where he is also Vice-Rector for International Relations. His research interests include the history of Bukovina, International Relations, European and Euro-Atlantic Integration. He is contributor to various international collections of articles and is the author of a several books, studies and articles.

Phone: +4070869075; E-mail: stefanp@atlas.usv.ro

Alexey Rodionov graduated from Lugansk National University named after Vladimir Dahl (Ukraine) in 2008, specializing in history of law, national economy and management. He obtained his PhD in 2010 at Lugansk National Agrarian University, Ukraine. Doctor of economical sciences in 2015 at International University of Business and Law (Ukraine) with a thesis on problems of staff management on the regional level. He is an author of more than 100 scientific works in the sphere of history of law, national economic policy and penal law. Currently he is professor of Economy and Management Department of Academy of Federal Penitentiary Service of Russia.

Phone: +79006032116; E-mail: avrpost@bk.ru

Harieta Sabol is lecturer at the Faculty of History and Geography of the "Ștefan cel Mare" University of Suceava. She received her Ph.D. from "Alexandru Ioan Cuza" University of Iași in 2002 with a thesis on Romanian historiography. Her research interests include Bukovina's personalities and its cultural, social, and medical history.

Phone: +40740764695, E-mail: harieta@atlas.usv.ro

Mykola Shkribliak – Doctor of Philosophy, Associate Professor, Head of the Department of Cultural Studies, Religious studies and theology of the Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University. Research interests: history of the Church in Ukraine and the problems of inter-confessional relationships, theoretical and methodological aspects of theological religious studies. Author of 2 monograph, co-author of 3 monographs and more than 70 articles.

Phone: +380976011173, E-mail: transcendere@ukr.net

Andrey Skiba graduated from the Rostov State University, Russia in 1998, specializing in criminal and penal law. PhD in 2003 at Rostov Law Institute of

---

Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia. Doctor of law sciences in 2013 at Academy of Federal Penitentiary Service of Russia with a thesis on execution of imprisonment of sick convicts. Author of over 200 scientific-research and educational-methodical works, including more than 10 monographs in the sphere of criminal and penal law. He is currently head of Penal Law Department of Academy of Federal Penitentiary Service of Russia.

Phone: +79106388234, E-mail: apskiba@mail.ru

Tatyana I. Troshina, PhD in history, professor-researcher at Northern Arctic Federal University (NArFU). In 1980, she graduated from the Leningrad (now St.-Petersburg) State University, specialization “History of Russia/USSR”, and then worked at the Arkhangelsk museum of local history. She was also involved in ethnographic research on the European North of Russia (Arkhangelsk Oblast) and managed the Scientific and Exposition Department of the museum. Since 2004, the author has been working at the Northern (Arctic) Federal University in Arkhangelsk (NArFU), joined the Department of Social Work and Social Security as professor. In 2013, she defended her PhD thesis on the topic of “The population of the European North of Russia in the 1st quarter of the 20th century: dynamics and directivity of the social processes”. The author wrote 8 monographs, more than 200 of scientific publications, and several tens of popular-science publications. Her scientific interests include local and social history, historical and social demography, and historical conflict study.

Phone: +79115710466; E-mail: tatr-arh@mail.ru

Ulyana Uska holds a PhD degree in History (2005). She is Associate Professor and Deputy Head of the History of Ukraine and Ethnic Communication Department at the Institute of Humanities and Social Science, National University Lviv Polytechnic. She also works as a researcher scientist in the Research Centre of the Ukrainian-Polish-Slovak Borderland, within the Ukrainian Catholic University in Lviv (Ukraine). Her fields of interest are the international relations in Austria-Hungary and the border studies.

Phone: +380987568609, E-mail: ulyana_uska@yahoo.de

Katarzyna Wagner – Ph.D. in history, cooperate with the Institute of History, University of Warsaw, Poland and the Research of Warsaw Department at the Museum of Warsaw. Her academic interests focus on the political and economic history of cities in the 17th-18th centuries, Swedish spoils of war collected in the territory of the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth, and the Polish-Swedish relations in the early modern era. Her dissertation focused on inequality in Polish cities in the 17th and 18th century (during the “Deluge” and the Great Northern War).

Phone: +48604051914, E-mail: wagner.katarzyna@gmail.com

Zhanar Yesserkepova - PhD of Historical Science, Associate Professor of Department of Language and Translation of China and the Far East Region at Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages. She has been teaching more than 16 years. Her professional interests consist of history of the countries of the East in new and modern times, international relations in the modern East, and political culture.

Phone: +87013501769; E-mail: zhanar_e77@mail.ru

Lilia Zabolotnaia was awarded her PhD in 1998, from the Institute of History – Academy of Sciences of Moldova. She is researcher at the Institute of History, State and Law of Academy of Sciences of Moldova. Her specific research interests involve the Moldavian-Polish relations in medieval and modern period (XIV-XVIII), the female factor in the Middle Ages and modern times (XIV-XVIII), the ethno-confessional situation in medieval Moldova, and the history of Central, Eastern and South-Eastern Europe (VII - XXI).

Phone: +373-69440118, E-mail: lilizab61@gmail.com