

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Serhii Dobrzhanskyi is a Candidate of Sciences (History) and Associate Professor in the Department of History of Ukraine, Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University. His area of research is related to the history of cities' development in Eastern Europe as well as the history and activities of non-governmental organisations in Western Ukraine (the 19th-20th centuries). At this point, he is involved in a project about the comparative analysis of the municipal self-government formation and development, the organisation of municipal infrastructure in the cities of Right-Bank Ukraine, Galicia, and Bukovina.

Phone: +380503743359; E-mail: dobrserg2128@gmail.com

Andreea Gavrilă holds a PhD in Historical Sciences from the "Peoples' Friendship University of Russia" (RUDN) in Moscow. Her main research interests include the dynamics of international cooperation in the Black Sea region, Romania's foreign policy towards the countries of the Black Sea region, and the role of the Black Sea region in EU and US policies. She is author and co-author of more than 20 scientific publications.

Phone: +40764834616; E-mail: gv_andreea@yahoo.com

Vahit Guntay graduated from Gazi University, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, Department of International Relations in 2008. He completed his master's degree and PhD in International Relations Department at Karadeniz Technical University, Institute of Social Sciences. He is an Assistant Professor at Karadeniz Technical University, Department of International Relations in Trabzon. He concentrated his studies, research and projects on international security and cybersecurity.

Phone: +904623253141; E-mail: vahit.guntay@ktu.edu.tr

Valerii Hrytsiuk holds a doctorate in Military History. He has held the positions of Senior Professor, Deputy Chief, Head of Department, and Head of the Institute at the "National Defense University of Ukraine named after Ivan Chernyakhovsky". In 2015, Colonel Hrytsiuk was discharged from military service, continuing his scientific activity at the Research Centre of Military History of the "National Defense University of Ukraine" as a leading researcher. The main directions of his scientific work are the military history of Ancient Ukraine and history of Ukraine during the Second World War. Under his guidance, 12 textbooks and handbooks were prepared and published: Educational Work in the Armed Forces of Ukraine, Kyiv, 2011; Moral and Psychological Support in the Armed Forces of Ukraine, Kyiv, 2012; History of Martial Arts, Kyiv, 2012; Essays on the Military-Political History of Ukraine, Ostrig, 2014.

Phone: +380981092544; E-mail: skifwo@ email.ua

Gennadii Kazakevych is PhD, habilitate and Professor at the Department of Art History of the “Taras Shevchenko National University” of Kyiv. His research interests cover the history of photography, visual anthropology, ancient and early medieval art, and the Celtic studies. He is the author of 5 monographs and more than 70 articles.

Phone: +380664768525; E-mail: kazakevych@knu.ua

Olga Kazakevych holds a doctorate and habilitation degrees in History. She is an Associate Professor at the Department of Source Study and Special Historical Disciplines of the “National Pedagogical Dragomanov University”. Her scientific interests are related to the Ukrainian nationalism of the late 19th – early 20th, modern Ukrainian nation formation processes, and biographical research. She published two monographs and 70 articles.

Phone: +380679425297; E-mail: o.m.kazakevich@npu.edu.ua

İsmail Köse received his MA degree in International Relations (2003) and the PhD degree in History (2013) from “Karadeniz Technical University” in Trabzon, Turkey. He functioned as Assistant Professor at Erciyes University (2013-2016) and is currently an Associate Professor in the Department of International Relations, at “Karadeniz Technical University” in Trabzon. His research area includes the Post-WWI History and the Turkish Foreign Policy.

Phone: + 904623773000; E-mail: ismailkosetr@hotmail.com

Sergey P. Kostrikov holds a PhD in Historical Sciences from Moscow State University “M.V. Lomonosov”. He is the Head of the Department of History and Political Science, of the State University of Management in Moscow, Russian Federation. His main research interests include the history of international relations, the history of Russia at the beginning of the twentieth century, the history of management education in Russia, the history of the national periodical press at the beginning of the twentieth century, the history of the Balkans at the beginning of the twentieth century. He is author and co-author of more than 100 scientific publications and seven books.

Phone: +74953718163; E-mail: s.kostrikov@mail.ru

Alexander E. Lysenko is Professor and Head of the Department of Ukrainian History of the Second World War, Institute of Ukrainian History,

National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. He is also the winner of the “N. Kostomarov” Prize of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine (1998). He conducted the Ukrainian side of the trilateral project “1941. Country on fire. Belarus, Russia and Ukraine during the initial period of the Great Patriotic War”. He published ten monographs and more than 30 articles and contributed to the Bibliographic Index concerning the Ukrainian-Polish relations during World War II in Russian historiography.

Phone: +380983555154; E-mail: ukr2ww@ukr.net

Krzysztof Nowak holds doctoral and habilitation degrees in History. He is Professor at the Institute of History, University of Silesia in Katowice, and member of the Balkan Commission of the Polish Academy of Sciences in Poznań. His interests are related to modern history, national relations on the borderlands, Polish-Romanian relations, Polish-Czech-Slovak relations, national minorities, and migrations in the 20th century.

Phone: +48323591314; E-mail: krzysztof.nowak@us.edu.pl

Svitlana Pavlovskaya completed her PhD in Military History. She is currently a leading researcher of the Research Laboratory of the Humanitarian Institute (“Ivan Chernyakhovsky” National Defense University of Ukraine). Her area of interest relates to propaganda and agitation-mass work of the ideological structures of the Red Army, the possibilities of using the information product to change the world outlook and human behaviour, and the use of mass media in modern military conflicts to achieve a military-political goal with minimal losses. She led the information and communication structures in the law enforcement agencies for twenty-three years. At the same time, she gave lectures and researched this topic. Has released more than 25 articles and participated in the development of research problems of informational and psychological support for the actions of troops.

Phone: +380952829289; E-mail: super-varkusha@ukr.net

Florin Pintescu received his master’s degree in History (Nordic Viking and Medieval Culture) at the University of Oslo-Norway (1999). He was awarded his PhD in Historical Sciences (2003) and Geography (2015) by “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași. He is currently Associate Professor at “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava, where he teaches European Medieval History, Theory of the International Relations, Geopolitics and Geostrategy. His main research interests are European and Romanian military history, history of the national minorities in Bukovina, geopolitics of Romania and the influence of policies of the USA, Germany, and Russia upon Romania after 1990.

Phone: +40747023832; E-mail: florinp@atlas.usv.ro

Marina A. Shpakovskaya holds a PhD in Historical Sciences from “Peoples' Friendship University of Russia” in Moscow where she is currently Professor of the Department of Theory and History of International Relations. Her research interests encompass issues such as the history of international relations, the history of diplomacy, modern problems of globalisation, the problem of disarmament, modern diplomacy of Italy, and Russian emigration. She is author and co-author of more than 80 scientific publications of which six are indexed in the SCOPUS database and four books.

Phone: +79151910327; Email: m.spakovskaya@gmail.com

Bülent Şener received his master's degree in 2005 from Karadeniz Technical University, Department of International Relations. He completed his doctoral thesis in 2011 at Istanbul University, Faculty of Political Sciences, Department of International Relations. He is currently Associate Professor in the Department of International Relations at “Karadeniz Technical University” in Trabzon, Turkey. His research interests cover the area of International Relations, Turkish Foreign Policy, International Terrorism, International Security and Geopolitics.

Phone: +904623778791; E-mail: bulentsener@ktu.edu.tr

Viktorija Telvak is Associate Professor in the Department of World History and Special Historical Disciplines of “Ivan Franko Drohobych State Pedagogical University”. She earned her PhD in History and worked in the area of education for over 20 years. Her scientific interests are related to the Ukrainian historiography. She has authored 200 scientific studies and articles, three monographs and nine manuals.

Phone: +38096466021; E-mail: viktoriatelvak75@gmail.com

Vitaliy Telvak holds a PhD in Historical Sciences. He is a Professor in the Department of World History and Special Historical Disciplines of “Ivan Franko Drohobych State Pedagogical University” and the Head of “Drohobych Department of the Society of Social Studies and civil education teachers of Ukraine”. He published more than 350 scientific works in Ukrainian, English, Polish, and Russian; among these, over 200 (including 13 monographs) are devoted to various aspects of life and work of Hrushevsky. He is currently involved in the preparation of the academic edition Hrushevsky M. S. Works: in 50 volumes.

Phone: +380507321332; E-mail: telvak1@yahoo.com