

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Ekrem Yasar Akçay is an Associate Professor in the Department of Political Sciences and International Relations at Hakkâri University. In 2010, he received his Master's degree from Suleyman Demirel University's Institute of Social Sciences, Department of International Relations. Ankara University's Institute of Social Sciences, Department of International Relations awarded him a PhD. He worked as a researcher at Berlin's Humboldt University and Wroclaw University. He wrote numerous articles that were published in various academic journals.

Phone: +905358798675; E-mail: ekremyasarakcay@hakkari.edu.tr

Radu Florian Bruja is an Associate Professor at the University of Suceava's Faculty of History and Geography. He earned his M.A. in History from the Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași and his PhD in 2006. He has written over 100 studies, articles, reviews, memories editions, and books on various aspects of political life in the 1930s and 1940s, fascism and the extreme right, ethnic groups, and the role of the cultural and political elite in Romania and abroad. His research interests include the Romanian interwar radical political movement, World War II, and Polish-Romanian and Slovak-Romanian relations.

Phone: +40744503551 E-mail: radub@atlas.usv.ro

Fatih Demircioğlu is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Sciences and International Relations at Hakkâri University. He received his PhD in International Relations from Ankara University's Institute of Social Sciences. His area of expertise includes the Balkans, the Turkish World, and International Relations Theories.

Phone: +905413304545; E-mail: fatihdemircioglu@hakkari.edu.tr

Oleksandr Dobrzhanskyi holds a PhD degree in Historical Sciences. He is a Professor and Dean of the Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University's Faculty of History, Political Science, and International Relations. He is passionate about the history of national movements in Central and Eastern Europe in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Phone: +380505383110; E-mail: dobrzhanskiy@i.ua

Ihor Hyrych is a Doctor in Historical Sciences, Professor and Head of the Department of Ukrainian History Source Study (19th - Early 20th Century) at the M. Hrushevskiy Institute of Ukrainian Archaeography and Source Studies of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. His research focuses on Ukrainian history of historiography, source studies, historical topography, historical didactics, Kyiv studies, monument studies, intellectual history, history of the Ukrainian national liberation movement.

Phone: +380962871585; E-mail: ihor_hyrych@ukr.net

Nataliia Karpchuk, Doctor in Political Science, is a Professor and Head of the International Communication and Political Analysis Department at the Lesya Ukrainka Volyn National University (Lutsk, Ukraine). Her professional interests include information and communication policies of international actors, information warfare, and media propaganda. She teaches Mass and Strategic Communications, Propaganda in the System of Strategic Communications, and Information Warfare in Geopolitics.

Phone: +380974943183; E-mail: karpchuknata@gmail.com

Serhiy Kulyk is a PhD in Political Science, Associate Professor of the International Relations and Regional Studies Department, and International Relations Faculty at the Lesya Ukrainka Volyn National University (Lutsk, Ukraine). His research interests focus on “sports diplomacy” in the system of international relations. He teaches subjects connected with Ukraine’s national security and domestic/ foreign policies of states and regions.

Phone: +380964860362; E-mail: kulyk.serhil@vnu.edu.ua

Iakovos Menelaou is a Visiting Lecturer at the Institute of History, University of Hradec Králové. He completed his PhD at King’s College London. His research interests revolve around world history, European literature and poetry, and postcolonial states. He is the author of The Rhetoric of the Cyprus Problem: idealism, nationalism, realism (Trivent Publishing, 2021) and Illness, Disease and Death in the Poems of Constantine Cavafy (Cambridge Scholars, 2022).

Phone: +447714856588; E-mail: menelaou.iakovos@gmail.com

Florin Pintescu earned a Master's degree in History (Nordic Viking and Medieval Culture) from the University of Oslo-Norway (1999). He was awarded his PhD in Historical Sciences (2003) and Geography (2015) by Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași. He is currently a Professor at Stefan cel Mare University of Suceava, where he teaches European Medieval History, Theory of International Relations, Geopolitics and Geostrategy. His main research interests include European and Romanian military history, the history of the national minorities in Bukovina, the geopolitics of Romania and the influence of policies of the USA, Germany, and Russia on Romania after 1990.

Phone: +40747023832; E-mail: florinp@atlas.usv.ro

Antonina Shuliak is a Doctor in Political Sciences, Professor at the International Communications and Political Department. She is Dean of the International Relations Faculty of the Lesya Ukrainka Volyn National University (Lutsk, Ukraine); the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine scholarship holder (twice) (scholarship for young scientists); Editor-in-Chief of International Relations, Public Communications and Regional Studies Journal (Lutsk, Ukraine), thematic editor of the Nicolaus Copernicus University History and Politics Journal (Torun, Poland), and a member of the scientific council of the Annales Universitatis Pedagogicae Cracoviensis "Studia de Securitate" Journal (Krakow, Poland). Her research interests include information and analytical activities in international relations, foreign policy, political consulting, and analytical expertise. She authored more than 160 publications.

Phone: +380955237596; E-mail: antonina.mytko@vnu.edu.ua

Viktorija Telvak holds a PhD degree in History. She is an Associate Professor of the Department of World History and special historical disciplines of Ivan Franko Drohobych State Pedagogical University. Her research interests cover the Ukrainian history of historiography from the mid-nineteenth century until the first decades of the twentieth century, Local Lore Studies, and Hrushevsky Studies.

Phone: +38096466021; E-mail: viktoriatelvak75@gmail.com

Vitaliy Telvak is a Doctor in Historical Sciences, Professor of the Department of World History and special historical disciplines of Ivan Franko Drohobych State Pedagogical University. Currently, he activates at the Academic Secretary of Drohobych Centre of M. Hrushevsky Ukrainian Historical Society and Drohobych Affiliate of the Institute of Central-Eastern Europe. Research interests: Ukrainian, Russian, and Polish history of historiography from the mid-nineteenth century until the first decades of the twentieth century, intellectual history, theory and methodology of historical epistemology, Hrushevsky Studies.

Phone: +380507321332; E-mail: telvak1@yahoo.com

Kornelia Wasiak is a PhD student at the Department of Historical Sciences at Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University of Warsaw. She investigates the history of the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth. Her research interests include the religious affairs in modern Europe, the history of the Catholic Church and the Polish Underground State.

Phone: +48514490979; E-mail: k.lagodzka@wp.pl

Bohdan Yanyshyn is a Senior Research Fellow at the Department of the History of Ukraine of the 19th – early 20th centuries at the Institute of the History of Ukraine of the National Academy of Science of Ukraine. His research interests are related to the history of Ukrainian lands in the Austro-Hungarian empire, Local Lore Studies, and Ukrainian and Polish historiography from the mid-nineteenth century until the first decades of the twentieth century.

Phone: +380504418779; E-mail: bogdanyanyshyn@gmail.com