

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Dumitru Boghian is Associate Professor at the “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava. He was awarded his Ph.D. in 1999 for a thesis on the Cucutenian Culture in the Bahlui Basin. He is specialist of Eastern Carpathian Aeneolithic, and his research interests concern Prehistory, Prehistoric Archeology, and Ancient History of Romanians. His is the author of The Cucutenian Communities in the Bahlui Basin and The Early History of Mankind, and of articles on similar topics.

dumitrub@atlas.usv.ro

Kathryn Cassidy is a PhD Candidate at the Centre for Russian and East European Studies, University of Birmingham, UK and a Visiting Fellow under the Marie Curie SocAnth Program at the University of Babeș-Bolyai, Cluj Napoca, Romania.

KLC523@bham.ac.uk

Lucian Fedor is currently a doctoral student at the “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava. His interests include contemporary History of Romania and history of international the relationships of Romania with the West European space in the second period of the 20th century. His doctoral research – The German-Romanian relations (1964-1989) – investigates the evolution of diplomatic, political and economic relationships between Socialist Republic of Romania and Federal Republic of Germany.

lucianfedor@yahoo.com

Vlad Gafița graduated in 1999 from “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava, having completed a Ph.D. thesis on the political activity of Iancu Flondor, a Romanian leader in the Austrian Bukovina. He now teaches at the “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava and his interests include Contemporary History of Romania and History Teaching Methodology. He has published a few articles and a monograph on Bukovina’s History.

vladgafita@yahoo.com

Mircea Ignat was educated at the „Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași, with a degree in History and Philosophy. He received his Ph.D. at the same University. His domain of research includes Archaeology, History of the Roman Empire, Latin Paleography. His has published several books and articles such as The Tumular Necropolis from Radauti Area, in the Thracian-Getic World (VII-V centuries B.C.), Historical Sources of Greece and Rome. Ancient Historiography, Dacian Fortified Settlement from Cotu - Copălăul, Botoșani County (co-author Liviu Octavian Șovan).

He is Associate Professor the Faculty of History and Geography, „Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava.

mirceaignat@yahoo.fr

Sorin Ignățescu is Lecturer at “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava. He studied history and geography at University of Suceava and took his MA in Sources of Romanian ancient and medieval history and Ph.D. in Prehistoric Archaeology, at “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași, with a thesis titled The Cucuteni civilization on the Suceava Tableland. His area of interest is related to Archaeology, Prehistory and Ancient World History. He has published several articles and monographs concerning these domains.

sorinig@atlas.usv.ro

Patrik Kunec studied at the Comenius University in Bratislava, Faculty of Arts, and received his Ph.D. at the same academic institution. He is the co-founder and editor of MEDEA – Studia antiqua et mediaevalia and Nový vek (Comenius University, Bratislava), and external editor of Historická revue. His interests include „Issues of interaction of Hungary emigrants abroad during the 18th century”, „The perception of historical events in video sources, particularly in graphic art and cartoons”, and „Picture of historical events and personalities in the historical feature film”.

Kunec@fhv.umb.sk

Harieta Mareci Sabol is Lecturer at the Faculty of History and Geography of the “Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava. She received her Ph.D. from “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași in 2002 with a thesis on Romanian historiography. In this field of study, she has published one monograph and several articles. Her research interest focuses on Bukovina’s cultural history and its personalities.

harieta@atlas.usv.ro

Paul E. Michelson has a Ph.D. from Indiana University in 1975. He is Distinguished Professor of History at Huntington University in Huntington, Indiana. He was three times an IREX/Fulbright research scholar in Romania (1971-1973; 1982-1983; 1989-1990) and is the Secretary of the Society for Romanian Studies. His main fields of interest are modern Romanian development and Romanian historiography. His book, Romanian Politics, 1859-1871: From Prince Cuza to Prince Carol (1998), was awarded the 2000 Balcescu Prize for History by the Romanian Academy.

pmichelson@huntington.edu

Olimpia Mitric is Associate Professor at the „Ștefan cel Mare” University of Suceava. She graduated with a B.A. in Slavonic Studies from Faculty of Slavonic Languages, Department of Polish-Romanian, University of Bucharest (1977), and obtained her Ph.D. at the University of Bucharest (1997), with the thesis Writing Workshops, Scholars and Romanian Manuscripts in the Northern Moldavia (16th to 19th century). She specializes on the problem of history of the Romanian old books, and her research and publications investigate the genuine manuscripts and the old book's patrimony in the Northern Moldavia.

olimpia@atlas.usv.ro

Oleksandr Rusnak graduated in 2007 Department of history, politology and international affairs of Yuriy Fed'kovych Chernivtsi national university. He now teaches and he is currently a postgraduate student at this university. His research field is social and economic life of Bukovyna and Bassarabia in between-war period. He has published some articles about it.

rusnak-o@hotmail.com

Ioan Tomoiagă is currently a doctoral student at the Faculty of History and Philosophy, Babes-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, working on a thesis about the processes and mechanisms of communist propaganda in urban and rural Transylvania (1945-1965). His research field includes the XX century, particularly the relations between the Romanian institutions. He has published some considerations on the legislative framework for the operation of religious cults and their relations with the Romanian State after 1948.

tjanviseu@yahoo.com

Nicolae Ursulescu, graduated of the „Alexandru I. Cuza” Iași University of, Faculty of History (1965), where is Professor emeritus at Faculty of History – Department of Archaeology. Ph.D. (1983) with a thesis on The first Neolithic cultures in Moldavia, at the same University. DHC at „Ștefan cel Mare” Suceava University (2009). Editor in chief of the Studia Antiqua et Archaeologica (1994-2008). Head of the Interdisciplinary Center of Archaeohistorical Studies (since 2000). His studies are focused mainly on Prehistory. His most representative books: Contributions on the Neolithic and Aeneolithic from East-Carpathian countries of Romania (2000); Religion and Magic at East of Carpathians 7000 years ago (2006).

n.ursulescu@gmail.com

Nicolai Zagnat is a lecturer at the Department of History, Orthodox Theological Academy from Chișinău (Republic of Moldova). He specializes on the problem of history of Orthodox Romanian Church, Orthodox Russian Church, and Slavonic Paleography.

zagniatnicolaiz@yahoo.com