

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Ardak Abdiraiymova (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-7896-418X) – Candidate of Historical Sciences, Professor, and Head of the Department of Social and Humanitarian Disciplines at “M. Tynyshpayev ALT University” (Almaty, Kazakhstan). Her research interests include the recent socio-political history of Central Asian countries, the dynamics and nature of social change, and issues of social security. Her current research focuses on the Soviet state's mobilisation policy during World War II and its impact on citizens' dramatic experiences of adaptation. She has published over 70 scientific and educational works and co-authored a collective monograph.

E-mail: ardak.abdiraiymova@gmail.com

Antonina Anistratenko (ORCID iD: 0000-0003-1984-4441) is a Doctor of Sciences in Philology and a Professor at the Department of Social Sciences and Ukrainian Studies at Bukovinian State Medical University. Her research focuses on modern art movements in Ukraine and Western Europe, comparative literature, and teaching Ukrainian as a foreign language. She has authored over 145 scientific works, including six volumes, four manuals, and one handbook.

E-mail: oirak@bsmu.edu.ua

Dosbol Baigunakov (ORCID iD: 0000-0003-3741-9721) is a Doctor of Historical Sciences and a professor in the Department of Archaeology, Ethnology, and Museology at Al-Farabi Kazakh National University in Almaty, Kazakhstan. He specialises in archaeology, history, and forensic anthropology. At the intersection of interdisciplinary methods, he studies repressive policies and the cataclysms of the 20th century, conducting archaeological excavations of human remains and other materials from the Soviet-era totalitarian regime. He is the author or co-author of approximately 30 books on various historical issues.

E-mail: d.baigunakov@gmail.com

Stepan Borchuk (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-7494-7369) is a lecturer in the Department of World History, Faculty of History, Political Science and International Relations, at Vasyl Stefanyk Carpathian National University. His research interests include encyclopaedic traditions in Ukraine in the 20th century, the regional history of Ukraine in the 19th and 20th centuries, and biographical studies. He is the author of numerous studies and articles published in scientific journals, as well as book chapters.

E-mail: stepan.borchuk@cnu.edu.ua

Oleksandr Dobrzhanskyi (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-3817-188X) holds a PhD in Historical Sciences. He is Professor and Head of the Department of History of Ukraine at Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University. Oleksandr Dobrzhanskyi is passionate about the history of national movements in Central and Eastern Europe in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. His research focuses on the Ukrainian national movement of the 19th and early 20th centuries, the development of Ukrainian socio-political thought, and the history of Bukovina.

E-mail: o.dobrzhanskiy@chnu.edu.ua

Meruyert Doskaliyeva (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-4375-7586) is a Lecturer in the Department of History of Kazakhstan and Social Disciplines at Asfendiyarov Kazakh National Medical University. Her research examines the labour discipline of workers at defence factories in the Kazakh SSR during the Second World War. Drawing on archival documents, she explores patterns of workers' adaptation and state policy during the war years.

E-mail: doskalyeva@gmail.com

Murat Ercan (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-1315-9200) earned his PhD from the Department of International Relations at the University of Vienna, Austria, in 2006. He is now a faculty member at Anadolu University in Eskişehir, Turkey, in the Department of Political Science and Public Administration. There, he teaches courses on International Organizations, European Union Security Policies, Turkey-EU Relations, Political History, Political Science, and International Relations. Currently, he holds the position of Professor at Anadolu University in the Department of Political Science and Public Administration.

E-mail: muratercan@anadolu.edu.tr

Aram Ashot Gasparyan (ORCID iD: 0009-0007-7313-1422) holds a PhD in historical sciences. It is a Leading Researcher in the Department of Arab Countries at the Institute of Oriental Studies, National Academy of Sciences of the Republic of Armenia (NAS RA). His research interests include the modern history of Arab countries, Arab nationalism from 1908 to 1914, and contemporary security issues in North African Arab countries. He is the author of several books and articles published in various scholarly journals.

E-mail: aramashotgasparyan@gmail.com

Eser Gemici (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-8969-3151) earned his PhD from the Department of Security Strategies and Management at Ankara's National Police Academy in 2021. He is now pursuing a second bachelor's degree at Anadolu University's Faculty of Law in Eskişehir. He teaches courses on Security and Strategy, Security Organisations in Turkey, Public Administration, New Approaches in Terrorism and Security Studies, Intelligence, and International Security within the Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Anadolu University. Currently, he holds the position of Associate Professor at the same department.

Email: esergemici@anadolu.edu.tr

Igor Gerush (ORCID ID: 0000-0003-2177-5158), PhD in Medical Sciences, is a Professor and Rector of the Bukovinian State Medical University. Areas of research: history of medicine, history of BSMU, study and implementation of new educational technologies, and analysis of the effects of melatonin and Echinacea purpurea on the body. Author of more than 275 scientific papers, including three volumes and 22 textbooks and workbooks for students.

E-mail: gerush.igor@bsmu.edu.ua

Halit Hamzaoglu (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-5249-1911) is a Lecturer in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, Faculty of Economics and Administrative Sciences, at Kars Kafkas University. His research interests include Central Asian Studies, Geopolitics, and Great Power Competition. He has authored several books, studies, articles, and book chapters published in various scholarly journals.

Email: halithamzaoglu85@gmail.com

Igor Kolyada (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-3802-9082) – Doctor of Historical Sciences, Professor in the Department of Methodology and Techniques of Social Disciplines at the Mykhailo Drahomanov Ukrainian State University. Scientific interests include the national-cultural and socio-political activities of the Ukrainian intelligentsia in the 19th and 20th centuries; the role of the individual in history; the history of individual regions of Ukraine; theory and methodology; and innovative technologies for teaching history. Author of numerous studies, monographs, chapters in collective monographs, and articles published in various scientific journals.

E-mail: kolyada.i.a.1968@gmail.com

Petro Kostyuchok (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-8719-8723) is a Professor at the Department of Ethnology and Archaeology, Faculty of History, Political Science and International Relations, Vasyl Stefanyk Carpathian National University. His research interests include ethnology, World War I, national identity, migration, and the history of Central and Eastern Europe. He is the author of several books, studies, and articles published in various scholarly journals and book chapters.

E-mail: petro.kostyuchok@cnu.edu.ua

Erzsébet D. Molnár (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-6453-8174) is a Lecturer in the Department of History and Social Sciences and a researcher at the T. Lehoczky Social Science Research Centre of Ferenc Rakoczi II Transcarpathian Hungarian University. Her scientific interests include modern history, the history of Transcarpathia, Sovietisation, and the deportation of Transcarpathian Hungarians and Germans to Soviet labour camps. She is the author of several studies and articles published in scholarly journals and book chapters.

E-mail: molnar.d.erzsebet@kmf.org.ua

István D. Molnár (ORCID iD: 0000-0003-2959-9136) is a Lecturer in the Department of Geography and Tourism and a researcher at the Tivadar Lehoczky Social Science Research Centre of Ferenc Rakoczi II Transcarpathian University. His research interests include the geography of Transcarpathia, changes in its population and ethnic composition, migration trends in Ukraine and its neighbouring countries, and the transformation of Transcarpathia's administrative-territorial division. He is the author of several studies and articles published in scholarly journals and book chapters.

E-mail: molnar.d.istvan@kmf.org.ua

Antoniý Moysey (ORCID ID: 0000-0001-5295-2271) is a Doctor of Historical Sciences, Professor, and Head of the Department of Social Sciences and Ukrainian Studies at the Bukovinian State Medical University (Ukraine). He is also the editor of the Ukrainian-Romanian scientific journal "Current issues of social sciences and history of medicine". His scientific interests include: the history of Ukraine and Ukrainian culture; the traditional culture of the Bukovina population; the mutual influence between the Ukrainian and Romanian populations of Bukovina in the sphere of traditional culture; and processes of ethnocultural identity in border regions. He is the author of more than 250 scientific works, including 10 volumes and 14 student workbooks.

E-mail: antoniimoisei@bsmu.edu.ua

Emre Mutlu (ORCID iD: 0009-0002-6286-4560) is an independent researcher and graduate student in the Department of History at the Institute of Social Sciences, Trakya University. His research interests include Orthodox Christian communities under Ottoman rule, Eastern Orthodox monasteries, and the history of the Danubian Principalities during the Phanariot era.

E-mail: mutlu7987@gmail.com

Mariia Oliinyk (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-9745-003X) is a Professor and Doctor of Pedagogical Sciences, Head of the Department of Pedagogy and Psychology of Preschool and Special Education at Yuriy Fedkovych Chernivtsi National University, Ukraine, and a Professor at Jan Kochanowski University in Kielce, Poland. Her research interests include trends in preschool education, challenges in professional training for future educators, inclusive education, academic mobility among higher education teachers, and the psychological readiness of parents and educators to work with children with special educational needs. She has edited and contributed to international monographs and scholarly publications on the development of education systems and teacher training in the modern socio-cultural environment.

E-mail: m.oliinyk@chnu.edu.ua

Yasemin Ören (ORCID iD: 0009-0000-9543-2436) is an MA student in the Department of International Relations at Giresun University. She graduated from the Department of International Relations in 2021. She is interested in the evolution of international relations among great powers and the impact of global phenomena and processes on Turkey's foreign policy.

E-mail: yaseminoren55@gmail.com

Katalin Pallay (ORCID iD: 0000-0003-3833-8368) is a Lecturer in the Department of Pedagogy, Psychology, Primary and Preschool Education, and Management of Educational Institutions, and Director of the T. Lehoczky Social Science Research Centre at Ferenc Rákóczi II Transcarpathian Hungarian University. Her research interests include academic mobility, education for national minorities, academic achievement, social integration, and the assessment of student competencies in Transcarpathia. She is the author of several books, studies, articles, and book chapters published in various scholarly journals.

E-mail: pallay.katalin@kmf.org.ua

Harieta Mareci Sabol (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-6712-6893) is an Associate Professor at the Faculty of History, Geography and Social Sciences, Stefan cel Mare University of Suceava, and a researcher at the Bucovina Institute of the Romanian Academy. She received her PhD from Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași (2002) with a thesis on Romanian historiography. Her monographs, studies, and articles on Modern History have been published in Romania, Poland, Italy, Turkey, Ukraine, and Switzerland. Her research interests include the personalities of Bukovina and its cultural, social, and medical history.

E-mail: harieta@atlas.usv.ro

Kurt Selim (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-0462-5791) is an Associate Professor in the Department of International Relations at Giresun University. His research focuses on the political economy of international relations, international terrorism, and conflict zones in the Black Sea and Caucasus regions. He earned his BA in Political Science and International Relations at Istanbul University in 2001 and his MA in International Relations at Karadeniz Technical University in 2006. In 2017, he completed his PhD at Karadeniz Technical University with a dissertation titled “The Formation of Black Sea’s Security Architecture and Role of Turkey”. Kurt has one published book, “The Conflicts Points in Wider Black Sea Region”, five book chapters, ten articles in peer-reviewed journals, and nine presentations delivered at various international conferences.

E-mail: selim.kurt@giresun.edu.tr

Meysune Yaşar (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-9073-6350) is a Lecturer in the Department of International Relations, Faculty of Political Science, at İstanbul Medeniyet University. Her research interests include International Relations Theory, Maritime and Oceanic History, and Maritime Security and Strategy. She has authored several articles published in scholarly journals and book chapters. She also has a book based on her doctoral thesis and an editorial project on Turkish Foreign Policy.

E-mail: meysune.yasarr@gmail.com

Kürşad Emrah Yıldırım (ORCID iD: 0000-0002-7824-4916) received his PhD from the Department of Management Sciences at İnönü University in Malatya (Turkey) in 2018 and is currently an Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Anadolu University in Eskişehir (Turkey). His research interests can be categorised into several key areas: International Relations and Geopolitics; Public Administration and Leadership; and Historical and Institutional Studies. His publications demonstrate the author's ability to combine qualitative strategic analysis with quantitative methods.

E-mail: keyildirim@anadolu.edu.tr

Roza Zharkynbayeva (ORCID iD: 0000-0001-8560-1654) is a Professor in the Department of the History of Kazakhstan at Al-Farabi Kazakh National University. Her primary research interests include World War II and the "Home Front" (Kazakh SSR); Women's History and Gender Studies; Sociocultural Memory and Commemoration; and Socio-Economic and Ethnic History. She has authored numerous monographs, book chapters, and scholarly articles published in national and international journals.

E-mail: roza.zharkynbayeva@gmail.com